

To The Superior Coach Owner

Superior Coach Corporation through this Warranty, and the chassis manufacturers through their owner Service Policy acknowledge responsibility to the coach owner for continued satisfaction of ownership.

At regular intervals contact your Superior distributor to insure body service by factory trained personnel.

2.

Report promptly any deficiency covered by this warranty to the Superior distributor from whom your coach was purchased.

3.

Follow recommendations of the chassis manufacturer for proper maintenance and operation of the chassis.

We honor

your patronage

Your purchase of a Superior coach evidences your faith in the product and the company behind the product. Superior Coach Corporation and its distributors honor your choice.

It has always been our aim to build vehicles of unquestionable quality. We have endeavored to build this coach so that it will give you full satisfaction and we earnestly believe that this objective has been accomplished.

To the best of our knowledge this vehicle was delivered to you mechanically correct; however, if any deficiency should develop after the coach is in use, we solicit your cooperation by reporting it to our distributor who will define the responsibilities of the body manufacturer or the chassis manufacturer and effect a satisfactory adjustment under the terms of which ever warranty is applicable.

To provide readily accessible funeral coach or ambulance owner service, each distributor of Superior coaches is required to provide expert service facilities for repair and replacement of genuine Superior parts and we urge you to take advantage of this service.
